Big Data management the way you need it.

SCOPE

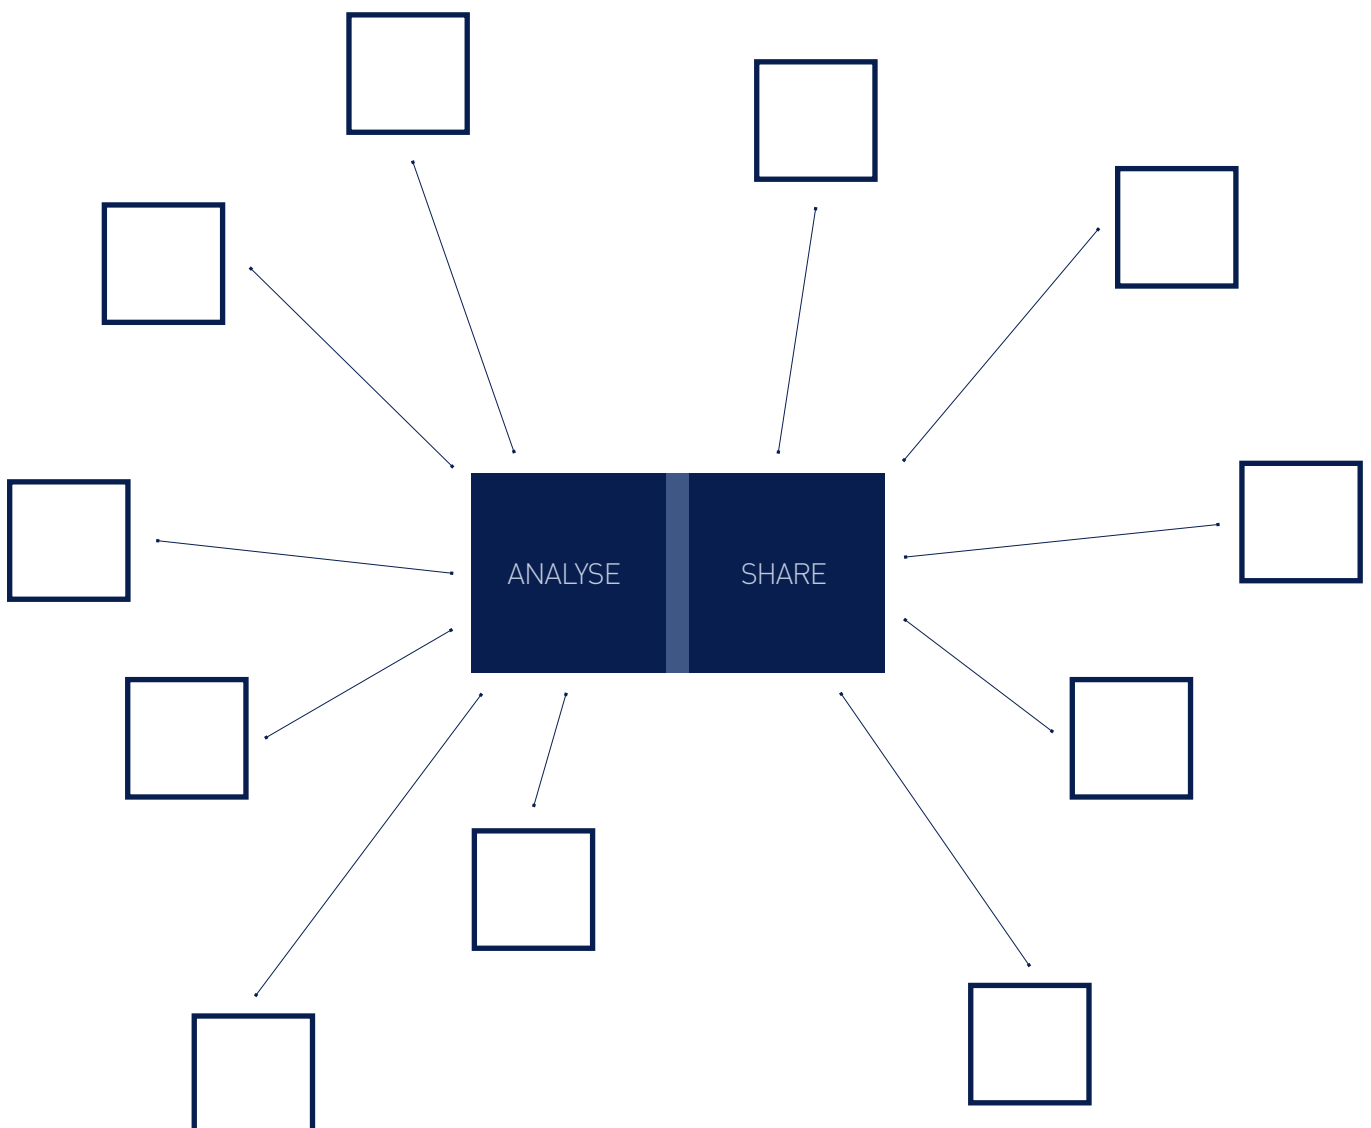

Big Data management at its best.

Big Data management – it's like a giant jigsaw puzzle. Only not with 1,000 pieces. Or even 100,000 pieces. But with millions upon millions of tiny pieces. With information from a vast range of sources that needs to be correlated in seconds. In real time! And not just to create a pretty picture, but to provide a basis for decisions, to show options for action – and even to save lives.

SCOPE from INNO gives you precisely this decision-making tool. Everything you need to draw the right conclusions in complex situations – and to share them with those who need to know.

SCOPE – this is Big Data management at its best. For a throughput of over a billion pieces of metadata per day. With an unlimited storage duration and volume. With an unlimited number of users. SCOPE is ideal for anyone who needs to combine a large number of data sources within one mass-data-enabled application.

Joint Intelligence Analytics

SCOPE is perfect for comprehensive situation assessments that are based not only on the latest information, but on all existing data.

With a single piece of software, SCOPE lets you

- merge all data feeds, acquire and evaluate information,
- identify temporally independent, past and present relationships,
- record processes and sequences, discover patterns, identify events, anomalies and peculiarities,
- share analysis results and reports with all team members,
- stay in control and take the lead thanks to a knowledge advantage.

In short: analysis & sharing with a browser-based application on COTS hardware.

SCOPE offers you unlimited benefits:

- Ideal for your services.
At home. Abroad. Civilian or military.
- Perfect for your tasking.
You have everything at your fingertips. And you can filter as required.
- Unlimited scope and support.
You have full access. To all features. Including training, service and support.
- Be completely in the loop.
So you know what's happening. When. Where. And with whom.

SCOPE is the solution for you.

You don't want just any solution for your Big Data management? You want to share your data and analysis results with your entire team? Always be in the picture? Anytime? Anywhere? With everyone who needs to be informed? Then look no further – SCOPE from INNO is your ideal solution:
